

COMPOSER & PRODUCER

JAVIER
LIMON

Young producer, composer and performing artist Javier Limón is already a legend of Latin American culture. Javier Limón (Madrid, 1973) graduated from the Madrid Royal Conservatory, where he studied piano and guitar. He is an active composer and producer who began composing for flamenco artists but has since expanded his reach to Latin jazz musicians and Cuban artists.

His many composition and production credits include major albums by renowned artists such as Paco de Lucía, Bebo Valdes, El Cigala, Enrique Morente, Wynton Marsalis, the acclaimed Spanish singer Concha Buika or fado singer Mariza among many others.

Recording from Bogota to Paris and New York to Palestine, the artist incorporates a decidedly international vibe in his take on the traditions of Flamenco.

Raised in Spain, Limon traveled to New York City at an early age to train in the arts schools of the US. It was there that he was discovered for his potent and powerful lyricism and composition.

Grammy Award winner and winner of ten
Latin Grammys
among many others, Limón is already lead world music reference.

Employed by powerhouses of the flamenco world, such as Enrique Morente and Carmen Linares, to work his magic, Limon's ability to weave fairytales with his unique twists on the genre garnered him a Latin GRAMMY in 2004 for Producer of the Year. Limon has gone on to win a total of ten Latin GRAMMY's, one GRAMMY and many more nominations.

Javier Limón has combined several professional occupations in the world of art and communication. Although his core activity has been focused on composition, production and art direction on all types of projects, from albums to film scores and tv shows among others, his work as a communicator and teacher is likewise remarkable.

Currently he blends his artistic commitments with solidarity projects and with his work as a teacher and artistic director of the Berklee Mediterranean Institute and Berklee Latino at the prestigious Berklee College of Music, as well as directing his own music production company, CasaLimón.

"Traveller" by Anoushka Shankar, was nominated to the Grammy for the Best World Music Album 2013.

REVIEWS

His musical instinct continues to trade upwards, although he has not looked at the market indices for a long time, but simply inside the melodies. This is a man made of music, with notes of a thousand colors pumping him for blood and emotions throbbing in his heart.

El Mundo, Pablo Sanz, October 2016

Javier Limón in a Promised Land - The producer composes and plays in his flamenco album with palestinian, israeli, jordanian and spanish artists...

El País. Decembre 2013

Music to fight fear - In Boston and Ramala the same music is playing. Producer Javier Limón travels from Berklee in Boston, where he teaches, to the Palestinian capital to discover the talent of a society that has music and the secrets of rhythm in their DNA.

Amelia Castilla 2013

The flamenco unites Israel and Palestina - Promesas de Tierra, an album with young musical talent form Middle East.

El Mundo. 2013

The melodies of Javier Limón, who plays flamenco guitar, oud and bouzouki, are inspired in the repertoire from Middle East.

Carlos Galilea. El Babelia. 2013

Flamenco makes a mark in the U.S. Spanish promising young musicians join Berklee College of Music in a project led by Javier Limón.

ABC.es 21 Noviembre 2011

Javier Limón, professor at Berklee .. The guitarist and producer teache flamenco to students from the prestigious music school in a project that will transform into a record.

Zarmik Moqtaderi. El Mundo. Noviembre 2011

Then came Javier Limón, called to perform in the closure the Madrid Jazz Festival. Beside the top of flamenco - latin - jazz, .... As a finishing touch, could not be better.

Chema Garcia Martínez. El Pais. Noviembre 2008

The guitarist, composer and producer Javier Limón, deployed his small orchestra and Flamenco and cuban mastersto tell their unique vision of Latin jazz. There's a lot of freshness and originality in the arrangements of the madrilian artist, to whom we not only have to look at him as a performer but as a musician.

Pablo Sanz. El Mundo. Julio 2008

José Andrés Rojo. El Pais. Agosto 2008

Javier Limón is not only the most looked after producer of the moment. He is also the mind and the heart of Casa Limón, a project called to cross overseas.

DOCUMENTARY

LA GUITARRA VUELA

Documentary

Directed by Javier Limón & Jorge Martínez

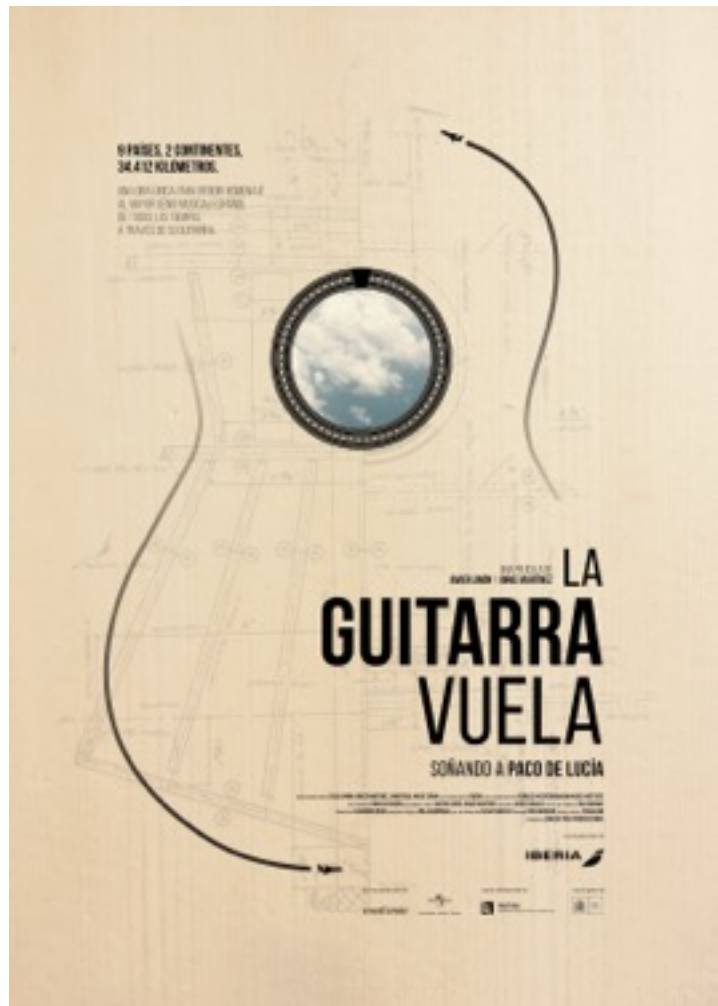

2016

9 countries, 2 continents, 21,383 miles. 'La guitarra vuela. Soñando a Paco de Lucía' is the story of a trip between Spain and Latin America, a tour with a unique musical instrument in the starring role, the peak in the life and work of a key artist in the history of music.

The final guitar of Paco de Lucía, 'La Maestro', has been off on holiday courtesy of Iberia to play a tribute tour. One guitar, major artists, brand new concerts, a documentary, a scholarship for two guitarists to keep training at the world's most important and prestigious music college, Berklee College of Music, an album and a plane; these are the main ingredients of this wonderful project that pays homage to the musician, the instrument and the universality of an art that both embodied.

This is the story of a trip between Spain and Latin America with a unique protagonist: the last guitar designed by the genius from Algeciras, which he never had the chance to unveil to the world. From Mallorca, Jerez de la Frontera and Lisbon to the United States and Latin America, this musical instrument has been travelling, keeping alive the magic of its master, Paco de Lucía. 'The Guitar Flies' is the tribute that the music producer Javier Limón, the creative producer Jorge Martínez and Iberia make to a universal genius. La Maestro flew from hand to hand; from those of Carlinhos Brown to those of Alejandro Sanz, stopping off at Tomatito's or those of Muñequitos de Matanzas, delivering anecdotes, nostalgia and a lot of art along the way.

TV & RADIO PROGRAMS

UN LUGAR LLAMADO MUNDO

TV & RADIO Music Program

2014

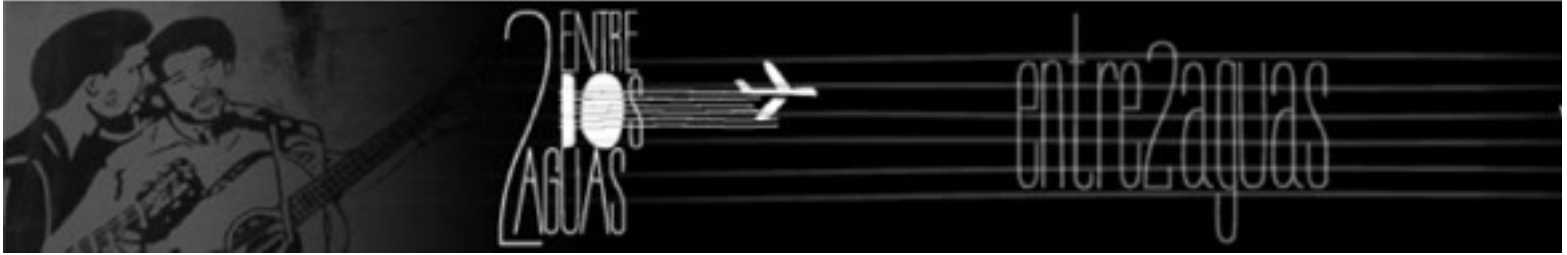

"Un Lugar Llamado Mundo" ( A place called world) is a unique Spanish program that revolves around music and musicians, with exclusive and unrepeatable performances where musicians of different styles and nationalities share the stage. "Un Lugar Llamado Mundo" allows the audience to see a total of 13 programs including live performances by Michel Camilo, La Shica, Los Coronas, DePedro, Benjamín Biolay, Soleá Morente with Los Evangelistas and Carl Barât, among other artists.

Directed by David Trueba, produced by Toni Garrido and presented by producer and composer Javier Limón (winner of 10 Latin Grammy Awards), the program gathers the different moments of meetings between the artists invited to each program: from the rehearsals in Javier's studio's in the morning, to the trip in a van and the recording of the live show.

The diverse origins and nationalities of the artists, their differences of styles and instruments, result in encounters full of surprising anecdotes and unique experiences.

ENTRE2AGUAS

TV music documentary series

2013

Entreaguas is a music documentary directed by Javier Limón, one of the most renowned music producers in Spain, in search of musical connections between two worlds: the Mediterranean cultures and the American cultures.

Almost forty years ago the course of flamenco music changed by chance. In Peru, Paco de Lucía discovered the cajon drum and incorporated it to his music and now the cajon drum is considered by many a flamenco instrument. This event was the starting point for this documentary, which reflects the ongoing encounter between two cultures: the Mediterranean and the Atlantic. Also exploring the current 'world music' in some of these countries from different points of view.

The human stories, landscapes, gastronomy or any other source of inspiration is valid to get to know the music, and the people of a country. Participating artists in these documentary series are Avishai Cohen, Antonio Carmona, Oscar de Leon, Guinga, Alejandro Sanz, Tito Paris or Carminho among many others.
